

ELEVENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

JUNE 17, 2018

Jesus said to the crowds: "This is how it is with the kingdom of God; it is as if a man were to scatter seed on the land and would sleep and rise night and day and through it all the seed would sprout and grow, he knows not how. Of its own accord the land yields fruit, first the blade, then the ear, then the full grain in the ear. And when the grain is ripe, he wields the sickle at once, for the harvest has come."
(Mark 4:26-34)

"[Religious] freedom remains one of America's most precious possessions. And, as my brothers, the United States Bishops, have reminded us, all are called to be vigilant, precisely as good citizens, to preserve and defend that freedom from everything that would threaten or compromise it."

HAPPY FATHER'S DAY!

"In revealing and in reliving on earth the very fatherhood of God, a man is called upon to ensure the harmonious and united development of all the members of the family: he will perform this task by exercising generous responsibility for the life conceived under the heart of the mother, by a more solicitous commitment to education, a task he shares with his wife, by work which is never a cause of division in the family but promotes its unity and stability, and by means of the witness he gives of an adult Christian life which effectively introduces the children into the living experience of Christ and the Church."

Apostolic Exhortation on the Role of the Christian
Family in the Modern World, Familiaris Consortio

ECONOMIC JUSTICE

CATHOLIC SOCIAL TEACHING: PART 7

What is a business?

A business is a unit of production that requires equipment, premises, money, etc., and a society of persons (Pope Saint John Paul II, Centesimus Annus 43). A business should supply people with goods that are truly good and with services that really serve. Founding a business often demands unusual daring, innovative creativity, and a heightened sense of responsibility.

What human qualities does a good business foster?

"When managed well, businesses actively enhance the dignity of employees and the development of virtues, such as solidarity, practical wisdom, justice, discipline, and many others. While the family is the first school of society, businesses, like many other social institutions, continue to educate people in virtue" (Pontifical Council for Justice and Peace, "The Vocation of the Business Leader", 3).

Why is the economy a place and a school of humanity?

Many employees and employers work much more than duty demands. They do this out of a sense of responsibility and out of "Business is a noble vocation, directed to producing wealth and improving the world. It can be a fruitful source of prosperity for the area in which it operates, especially if it sees the creation of jobs as an essential part of its service to the common good."

Pope Francis

love for their job and for the people who rely on the service they provide. Even employers do not always act in profit-oriented ways: investments are often an act of generosity, for investing means giving up immediate consumption and using funds to create jobs. Then, too, more and more people work in so-called non-profit organizations, which pursue social goals in an entrepreneurial spirit. Volunteering, too, is a form of work inspired by charity.

When does a business work successfully?

Success consists first but not exclusively in the efficient earning of profit. A business is good when it persistently creates something that is good for other people and for society. The State sets up the legal framework. It is not enough for a business to make donations from its profits; the important thing is to act justly, humanely, in a socially and environmentally conscious way already within the economic activity, at the heart of the business itself and of its processes and goals.

HELP TODAY'S SEMINARIANS BECOME
PRIESTS

Can you lend a helping hand to a future priest?

The next best thing to having a priest in the family could be to adopt one and to have your family in the hands of a priest who, every day, as he offers the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass, remembers you and your dear ones, who have helped make his priesthood possible.

By helping him become a Missionary today, you will help build up the Church of the 21st century. You will enable him to touch tens of thousands of souls over the course of his priesthood.

The Lord has blessed the Trinitarians Missionaries with very committed and capable people to carry out his mission in the world, but we are now at the point where your sponsorship will be critical if we are to continue to meet these growing needs and expectations.

Jesus and his disciples depended on those who provided for them while they devoted their lives to prayer and the ministry of the Word. Following in his footsteps, we too are dependent on others and we humbly invite you to invest in the future of the priesthood through ongoing spiritual and financial support of the Trinitarian Missionaries.

Are you interested in helping and supporting the men who will bring the sacraments, priestly presence and spiritual guidance to you, your children and your grandchildren?

You can contact me at the information below to learn more.

Sincerely yours in the Most Holy Trinity,
Fr. Santhosh George OSST,
Director of Mission Development
